Product Fully NDAA & TAA Compliant

To Whom It May Concern,

We are pleased to officially confirm that CHIYU Technology Co., Ltd.'s entire product portfolio, including security access control hardware, biometric terminals, and software solutions marketed to the US Government, the Department of Defense (DoD), federal agencies, and associated prime contractors, is fully compliant with both the NDAA (National Defense Authorization Act) and the TAA (Trade Agreements Act).

I. NDAA Compliance (Section 889)

All CHIYU products are fully compliant with the US Congress Bill, NDAA H.R. 5515, Section 889.

CHIYU does not utilize, integrate, or source any SoC (System on Chip), telecommunications equipment, or componentry capable of processing software from any banned entities listed under the NDAA framework (including but not limited to Huawei, HiSilicon, ZTE, Hikvision, and Dahua).

All of CHIYU's products employ strictly NDAA-compliant chipsets, with the vast majority utilizing in-house developed chips manufactured in Taiwan.

II. TAA Compliance (19 U.S.C. § 2501 et seq.)

All CHIYU products comply with the Trade Agreements Act (TAA), making them fully eligible for US Federal Government procurement contracts, GSA Schedules, and DoD deployments.

Country of Origin (COO): All CHIYU products undergo "substantial transformation" and are manufactured, assembled, programmed, and quality-tested in Taiwan (Republic of China), which is officially designated as a World Trade Organization Government Procurement Agreement (WTO GPA) country under the TAA framework.

This certificate guarantees that CHIYU Technology provides a clean, secure, and compliant supply chain that meets the highest regulatory and cybersecurity standards for United States federal infrastructure.
